

Roof air intake box CD

Roof intakes are intended to draw fresh air from above the roof and to protect the object against precipitations. In case of strong winds above 30m/s at the intake it's recommended to install additionally shields. In order to protect against pollution and insects the intakes have installed the nets or mosquito-curtains on 4 sides. Air intakes are adapted for connecting with PD roof bases.